THE HALPERIN & FISH FAMILY DESCENDANTS: Dedication

Introduction

Eleven years have transpired since the death of Josef Halperin. He was the sole surviving child of Yechiel Halperin, who perished at the hands of the Nazis along with his spouse and all their other children and their families. Fortunately, Josef and his son Max were the only members of Josef and Bayla Halperin's family to survive the Holocaust. In Europe at the conclusion of World War II, Josef wed his second wife, Pesia and they began a second Halperin family tree.

This undertaking is a tribute to these survivors. So much of our seed has been lost due to man's inhumanity, intolerance and injustice to man. Those who survived, must go forward to uphold the traditions and history of our people.

As Jews it is our responsibility to remember our past and document it for our future generations. That is the greatest lesson of our laws and history as outlined in the Torah. To remember that our people made a difference in the evolution of our present day world, its morals, its rule of conduct and laws. So we remember and learn from our past and we can therefore appreciate what our people suffered...what they learned....what they taught. Their suffering must not be in vain. It must serve a greater purpose which is the perpetuation and the survival of our seed so that we can live a better present and guarantee our future survival as a people....Boruch Hashem.

Short History on Josef Halperin: (written by his son Dr. Harvey Halperin)

Josef was born in Darajna, Poland in 1906. He was well trained in 'Yiddishkeit' - torah, talmud, 'davening' - as he was born into a religious family, the father of which was a highly regarded pious man. Because of the war, his comfortable life was thrown into turmoil and he had to sacrifice his personal wealth, vocation, and ideals in order to survive.

His losses were probably more than most of us today could bear (but no greater than those around him at the time), and certainly coloured his future outlook. He was a patriarch, a firm believer in G-d, and a man who was comfortable with what he had, not craving major material possessions. He had lost everything once, and did not feel nor have the desire to acquire these kinds of "comforts" again.

He arrived in Canada in 1948 with a wife, a son, and a daughter, and strove for the next years of his life to re-establish those values that he had been brought up with. It was not the easiest task to accomplish, however, he made every attempt to stay true to his ideals. His work over the years was physically demanding, as was the process of being assimilated into a new society. He never lost sight of his commitment to his family or to his religion. Thankfully a good deal of this rubbed off on his children!

He was a very private individual and as such would probably feel that these few paragraphs were enough to highlight his life.

3. MAX (MOSHE BEN YOSEF HACOEN)³ HALPERIN (JOSEF (YOSEF BEN YECHIEL HACOEN)², YECHIEL HACOEN¹) was born September 15, 1936 in Demidovca, (White Russia) Ukraine. He married MIRIAM YEHEVITT (YEHEVITT BAT LAIZER) STEIN June 24, 1956 in Montreal, QC Canada, daughter of LEWIS STEIN and ROSE FISH. She was born February 26, 1938 in Montreal, QC Canada, and died August 01, 2003 in Montreal, QC Canada.

Notes for MAX (MOSHE BEN YOSEF HACOEN) HALPERIN:

His birthplace, <DEMIDOVKA, White Russia> is located 4.6 miles NE of the birthplace of his father in <Draguny> in present day (1999) Ukraine. Due to border changes, it has been known in the past as White Russia. The exact co-ordinates are 49 deg.34'N, 34 deg. 11'E.

In writing about Max Halperin one must probe deeply into his youth which is in itself a most difficult task. The experiences that he endured at his early age were horrible ones to recall. In his adult life, he rarely discussed them...nor did his father Josef. The pain of the HOLOCAUST experience made it difficult to talk about..even with his immediate family. Another reason was the fatherly instinct to protect them from knowledge of the pain from that era.

Max was born into a very affluent family. His father Josef, was the son of a rabbi <Harov Yechiel Hacoheh>. Josef was a leather manufacturer, an upstanding, well respected and successful businessman. A man of high human morals and very observant of his Jewish heritage during his entire lifetime. Max's mother Bayla was a great homemaker. Another child was born in 1938 and she was named Rivka.

In 1939 the Germans occupied their village and Max's family was forced into the Demidovka Ghetto. In 1940, his family fled the Ghetto into hiding in the forest and they were then offered refuge by Polish people who Josef looked after, prior to the outbreak of the war. These Polish people hid them in their stable in an underground pit which was covered with hay, while the horses were walking above their pit. During their hiding period, their only nourishment was raw potatoes and water.

During this time, they were obliged to endure the most severe physical and psychological strains and suffering. In fact, Max had been denied his youth by his experience of underground isolation. Towards the end of the hiding period, his mother Bayla died in the underground pit due to starvation and pneumonia which was a result of giving her own portion of food to her children, so they might survive the ordeal. The pit was very damp and darkness surrounded them constantly. In fact, after this terrible experience ended, Max was practically blind and suffered from starvation and he remained mute for over one year afterwards.

His baby sister, Rivka was left behind with the Polish people for fear that her crying might give them away to the Germans. Later they found out that the Germans had taken Rivka and murdered her.

Max remembers being carried on the shoulders of his father as they fled into the depths of the forest for safety. Silence was the rule because in order to survive he was required not to cry or utter any sounds. In 1945, both of them were liberated by the Russians. They were taken to a 'freedom camp' in Austria, where Josef became a leader to assist all war victims with the distribution of food, which was donated by the Americans. While in Austria, Max's father met and married his second wife, Pesia Gold. Josef and Pesia began a new family and their first child, Carole was born there in 1947.

The four of them emigrated, by ship, to Canada in 1948. They were sponsored by a very good friend, who previously had been very poor in their town of origin, but became very affluent in Montreal. That friend remembered how he was helped by Josef in Europe.

In 1949, Max's brother Harvey was born in Montreal. During his youth in Montreal, Max attended Iona Public School and West Hill High School. Max always held his father in the highest of respect and he truly honoured his father {as in the commandment } and with great love.

He met Miriam in Montreal and they were wed in 1956. Max always has been a devoted husband to her and father to their three children. He earned his livelihood in the restaurant sector and he became well known to a multitude of people in the Montreal Jewish community.

He was always an encouragement to his children in all levels. He took special interest in their activities such as soccer, hockey, baseball. He even accompanied them to 'rock concerts'. Both because of his love of music and his obligation to protect them from outside influences. He accompanied his sons to sports activities (in the early hours or very late hours of the day) and practice sessions.

Max is a very sociable and warm human being, always friendly and sincere in his relationship with others. He is known as a 'no nonsense' personality and whatever he speaks about is usually very meaningful. He has a great sense of humour and is well liked by his peers. He has always been a devoted companion to his wife Miriam. Together they shared a lifetime of hard work which was balanced by enjoyment in all their social endeavours.

Together with Miriam they both enjoy their five grandchildren and they are well loved and admired by them as well.

Prior to the birth of her first child, she took a leave of absence from nursing. She is enjoying her new role as a full time mother to her two daughters, Jamie and Taylor.

Marriage Notes for ANDREW HALPERIN and JODI MILLER:

Jodi and Andrew met during the time of their participation in the B'nai Brith Youth Organization in Montreal. They both served in the highest executive positions of that Jewish youth organization.

They were married by Rabbi Kenneth Katz at Congregation Beth-El in Town of Mount Royal, Quebec. It was a 'frailach simcha' in the presence of approximately two hundred family and friends. They were fortunate that in addition to their four parents, the event was also attended by their 'Posluns' and 'Halperin' grandparents.

In August 2000, they presently reside with their two daughters, in their own home located in Dollard des Ormeaux, QC.

Notes for MAX (MOSHE BEN YOSEF HACHEN) HALPERIN:

His birthplace, <DEMIDOVKA, White Russia> is located 4.6 miles NE of the birthplace of his father in <Draguny> in present day (1999) Ukraine. Due to border changes, it has been known in the past as White Russia. The exact co-ordinates are 49 deg.34'N, 34 deg. 11'E.

In writing about Max Halperin one must probe deeply into his youth which is in itself a most difficult task. The experiences that he endured at his early age were horrible ones to recall. In his adult life, he rarely discussed them...nor did his father Josef. The pain of the HOLOCAUST experience made it difficult to talk about..even with his immediate family. Another reason was the fatherly instinct to protect them from knowlege of the pain from that era.

Max was born into a very affluent family. His father Josef, was the son of a rabbi <Harov Yechiel Hacohen>. Josef was a leather manufacturer, an upstanding, well respected and successful businessman. A man of high human morals and very observant of his Jewish heritage during his entire lifetime. Max's mother Bayla was a great homemaker. Another child was born in 1938 and she was named Rivka.

In 1939 the Germans occupied their village and Max's family was forced into the Demidovka Ghetto. In 1940, his family fled the Ghetto into hiding in the forest and they were then offered refuge by Polish people who Josef looked after, prior to the outbreak of the war. These Polish people hid them in their stable in an underground pit which was covered with hay, while the horses were walking above their pit. During their hiding period, their only nourishment was raw potatoes and water.

During this time, they were obliged to endure the most severe physical and psychological strains and suffering. In fact, Max had been denied his youth by his experience of underground isolation. Towards the end of the hiding period, his mother Bayla died in the underground pit due to starvation and pneumonia which was a result of giving her own portion of food to her children, so they might survive the ordeal. The pit was very damp and darkness surrounded them constantly. In fact, after this terrible experience ended, Max was practically blind and suffered from starvation and he remained mute for over one year afterwards.

His baby sister, Rivka was left behind with the Polish people for fear that her crying might give them away to the Germans. Later they found out that the Germans had taken Rivka and murdered her.

Max remembers being carried on the shoulders of his father as they fled into the depths of the forest for safety. Silence was the rule because in order to survive he was required not to cry or utter any sounds. In 1945, both of them were liberated by the Russians. They were taken to a 'freedom camp' in Austria, where Josef became a leader to assist all war victims with the distribution of food, which was donated by the Americans. While in Austria, Max's father met and married his second wife, Pesia Gold. Josef and Pesia began a new family and their first child, Carole was born there in 1947.

The four of them emigrated, by ship, to Canada in 1948. They were sponsored by a very good friend, who previously had been very poor in their town of origin, but became very affluent in Montreal. That friend remembered how he was helped by Josef in Europe.

In 1949, Max's brother Harvey was born in Montreal. During his youth in Montreal, Max attended Iona Public School and West Hill High School. Max always held his father in the highest of respect and he truly honoured his father {as in the commandment } and with great love.

He met Miriam in Montreal and they were wed in 1956. Max always has been a devoted husband to her and father to their three children. He earned his livelihood in the restaurant sector and he became well known to a multitude of people in the Montreal Jewish community.

He was always an encouragement to his children in all levels. He took special interest in their activities such as soccer, hockey, baseball. He even accompanied them to 'rock concerts'. Both because of his love of music and his obligation to protect them from outside influences. He accompanied his sons to sports activities (in the early hours or very late hours of the day) and practice sessions.

Max is a very sociable and warm human being, always friendly and sincere in his relationship with others. He is known as a 'no nonsense' personality and whatever he speaks about is usually very meaningful. He has a great sense of humour and is well liked by his peers. He has always been a devoted companion to his wife Miriam. Together they shared a lifetime of hard work which was balanced by enjoyment in all their social endeavours.

Together with Miriam they both enjoy their five grandchildren and they are well loved and admired by them as well.
